Astronomy Project Assignment #4: Journal Entry

Imagine that you are one of the people living in your space colony. Write a one page journal entry about your day. This may be in the form of a diary entry, a captain’s log or a professional report. It may be handwritten or typed.

Here are some questions to think about as you do this assignment:

- What is a typical day like?
- What did you do today?
- What are your responsibilities at the colony?
- Who are some of the other people there?
- How do you feel about living there?
- What are some of the difficulties you have to put up with because of your unique living situation?

This assignment is due _______________.
